(ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING)

Dead! one of them shot by the sea in the east And one of them shot in the west by the sea.

Dead! both my boys! When you sit at the feast
And are wanting a great song for Italy free.

Let none look at me!

Yet I was a poetess only last year,
And good at my art for a woman, men said.
But this woman, this, who is agonized here,
The east sea and west sea rhyme on in her head
For ever instead.

What art can a woman be good at? Oh, vain?

What art is she good at, but hurting her breast
With the milk-teeth of babes, and a smile at the pain?

What art's for a woman? To hold on her knees Both darlings! to feel all their sems round her throat

To teach them . . It stings there. I made them indeed
Speak plain the word "country." I taught them no doubt
That a country's a thing men should die for at need.
I prated of liberty, rights, and about

And when their eyes flashed . . O my beautiful eyes!
I exulted! nay, let them go forth at the wheels
Of the guns, and denied not.—But then the surprise,
When one sits quite alone!—Then one weeps, then one kneels!

With my kisses, of camp-life and giory, and how They both loved me, and soon, coming home to be spoiled.

Cling, strangle a little! to sew by degrees
And 'broider the long-clothes and neat little coat!

To dream and to dote.

The tyrant turned out

At first happy news came, in gay letters moiled

In return would fan off every fly from my brow With their green laurel-bough.

And some one came out of the cheers in the street

I bore it: -friends soothed me: my grief looked sublime

And letters still came,—shorter, sadder, more strong.
Writ now but in one hand, "I was not to faint.
"One loved me for two... would be with me ere long
"And 'Viva Italia' he died for, our saint,

"To live on for the rest

You think Guido forgot?

Are souls straight so happy that, dizzy with Heaven. They drop earth's affections, conceive not of woe? think not. Themselves were too lately forgiven

Through that Love and Sorrow which reconciled so The Above and Below.

And no last word to say!

To the face of Thy mother! consider, I pray, How we common mothers stand desolate, mark,

O Christ of the seven wounds, who look'dst through the dark

Whose sons, not being Christs, die with eyes turned away.

My Nanni would add "he was safe, and aware

On which without pause up the telegraph line

Who forbids our complaint."

"Of a presence that turned off the balls . . was imprest t was Guido himself, who how what I could bear. "And how 'twas impossible, quite dispossessed,

Swept smoothly the next news from Gaeta: -Shot.

Tell his mother. Ah, ah, -"his," "their" mother: not "mine."

No voice says "my mother" again to me. What!

As the ransom of Italy. One boy remained
To be leant on and walked with, recalling the time
When the first grew immortal, while both of us trained
To the height he had gained.

While they cheered in the street

Then was triumph at Turin. "Ancona was free!

With a face pale as stone, to say something to me.

My Guido was dead!—i fell down at his feet,

Ah, boys, how you hurt! you were strong as you pressed.

And I proud, by that test.

New Yorkers are to Return to

Engineers are to Remain-Cause of Departure - Description of SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.-The First New York Regiment will be brought back from Honolulu as fast as transportation can be provided, and on their arrival will be sent to New York. The military authorities have become alarmed at the prevalence of sickness in the regiment. Typhoid is epidemic, and with dysentery is filing with patients the hospitals at Honolulu, both military and civil. The death rate at Camps McKinley and Otis has increased rapidly during the past month. Gen. Merriam received a report of the conditions of the camps from Col. Barber by the Australia. He was so impressed with the serious condition of affairs that he immediately telegraphed the Secretary of War his recommendation that the New York Regiment be relieved at once from duty and brought back to the continent. Yesterday an answer was tele-graphed from Washington approving Gen. Merriam's recommendation, and directing that they be carried out with all possible dispatch. The author-ities here have not yet been advised as to what will be done with the New Washington order and will return with his regiment.

The departure for Manila of Gen. King and his command on the transan officer of higher rank will soon be detailed for that position.

Immediately on receipt of the order General Merriam sent for Depot Qu.rcontract will be made for the use of regiment. Regarding the condition of Camp McKinley a prominent officer said yesterday: "Gen. Merriam has feared for some time that sickness would greatly increase in that part of the camp occupied by the New York Regiment. When he was there many weeks ago he noticed the uncleanly condition of the surroundings. The sinks were in a bad condition, and refuse was alowed to accumulate in the streets. On the other hand, the engineers, who camp by the side of the New Yorkers, cept a camp as clean as could be. As a result they have had no deaths and scarcely any sickness. An officer of the engineers told Col. Barber at that time that typhoid would make its ap-pearance among his men within a month. Just two weeks later it broke out, and is now epidemic.

All of the New York boys about town were delighted to learn that they had been ordered home. There is a much better tone in all the hospitals and convalescent camps.

It is expected that 500 New Yorkers will leave by the Australia and 500 more by the Mariposa if there be room on the Mariposa.

(Chronicle, 11th.)

According to the Australia's officers, the health conditions at camps in Ho-nolulu are causing the residents of the island town considerable anxiety. There is a funeral nearly every day, and an increasing number of the sol diers are lying down beneath the dead-ly hand of typhoid.

The camp is situated in an ideal lo-The camp is situated in an ideal lo-calton from a sanitary standpoint. There is an abundant supply of fresh water, and close at hand there is a beach where the whole regiment might go in bathing at any time of the day or night. Honolulu has always been considered an ideal health resort, and such a thing as typhold was almost unknown until the soldiers arrived. The whole blame is laid on the incompetency of the officers and the lack of nterest taken in sanitary matters by ol. Barber. The Honolulu people are doing everything in their power for the sick soldiers, but the disgust at the conduct of the officers who think of nothing but their own immediate com-fort is growing into a very bitter feel-few months have been teaching it is that when a great nations of the

It is sure to win the day and to rule as a mighty influence among the other great nations of the world and slowly but surely to lift them up to its own high level of civilization. The following is a summary of the sermon:

We meet today in this house of worship at the call of the President of

We meet today in this house of wor-ship at the cail of the President of the United States to celebrate the great national home featival day of the American people, for the first time as an integral part of the territory of the United States and it is eminently fit-ting that we should take the oppor-tunity which the occasion affords to consider some of the leasons which the America of the past teaches us and America of the past teaches us, and what those lessons have to say about the America of today and the America of the future and to this and we ask what are thoe great ideas which America has stood for in the past? What was it that the American forefathers dreamed of, when 122 years ago they took up arms against Great Britain and won the day? They looked forward to something entirely new in the history of the world-a country based on manhood and manhood only. Every other nation had been based on priv-liege and rank and birth. The wonderfounders of the American Republic believed in God and in spite of the teaching of the prevalent creed of their times, which told them human nature was totally depraved, they believed in man. They proceeded to organize a government where man would be free to live each his own individual life as he chose. They proposed that men should govern thomselves, not because they were fully able to govern bemselves, but because they could do better than some one else. That their ideal. What has been achieved? We have organized a government based solely on manhood. We have applied the principles of government to an extent never dreamed of before. We have built up a c-vilization in which there is a deep-seated purpose that every man, be he white, black or yellow, shall have an equal chance. We have purposed that every boy or girl shall have without money or without price all the education he can absorb. More than that, we have a free religion.

Further, wherever the American flag waves a man has the right to speak as he pleases, unafraid and unhindered and he can print as he will. A free press is another distinguishing scieristic of American civilization. More than that we have invited the peoples of the earth to share with us in our free institutions. It is said today that America represents every other nation better than that nation rep-resents itself. We have almost stripped Ireland bare. We have the canny Scotchman with us in great numbers. We have the Englishman, and in spite of all that has been said, we have proved within the past few mon he that blood is thicker than water. The peoples of the earth have come till we hardly know whether we are Anglosaying that on the western continent turning should attempt to stop off at undisturbed. There is only one aphereaphere. There is only one sphere-America a sphere. For centuries Spain has been standing, at least so far as her colonies were concerned, for a de-nial of everything distinctly American. She has been forbidding equal education, equal opportunity, equal rights in the time of President Jefferson it seemed an evil almost intolerable. Grant wanted to suppress it, and so did Harrison and Cleveland. It remained for Wm. McKirley to declare that these conditions must no longer

Has the war with Spain been a righteous one? I declare it to be the most glorious in American history. We are proud of the American revolution, for then our fathers were fight-ing for their own rights. We are proud of the war of 1812, for then our fathers were fighting for the rights of their own citizens. We are proud of the Civil war, for then we were fighttions for the Union Thanksgiving service at Central Union Church at 11 yesterday forencon. While many of the regular attendants were engaged with the dinners to American soldiers, every pew was filled and the gailery was occupied. The features of the musical program were the organ playing of Professor fingalis and the solo by Professor farndley, whose voice was nover heard to better advantage. The sermon by Rev. Wm. Morris Kineaid was a strong and thoughtful one, was commented upon favorably after the service and seemed to meet with response and approval as it was being delivered.

For the new America, the America which has sp into existence in the year of Our lato existence in the year of Our Lord, 1898, God's motto is: Not Amer-ica for the Americans, but America for the World. The sorrows and wrongs of the most alien are our sor-rows and wrongs. Patriotism is noble and we glory in the fact that we are a nation of patriots. But we have dis-covered a nobler ism than even pat-riotism. It is humanitarianism. The Thanksgiving service of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral was very largely attended and was of the heartiest nature. There was special music by the choir and it was excellently rendered, particularly the Anthem "Sing O Heavens, and Be Joyful," by Hall. Solos were sung by Judge Stanley, C. W. Booth and Sergt. Preston, of the New York Engineers. The sermon preached by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, from the text "Give us our daily bread," was very appro-priate for the occasion. The special prayer for the President of the United States was used. The opening voluntary was the "Star Spangled Banner," and at the close of the service Wray Taylor played the new international symn "Unity," words by Poet Laureate Austin, music by J. Hamilton Howe.

Ito Speaks for His Master - Proposal for Alliance and Buply, Cause of Great Changes

According to the interesting correspondence of Mr. Outa in the Clour Shinbon, says the Japan Times, Marquis ho was given audience by the Emperor of coins on the 20th of Septemher, and was treated in accordance with the etiquette generally accorded to princes of royal blood. He was conducted to a seat on the dais where the emperor sat. Prince Ching occupied a seat between the two. The Japanese Charge d'Affairs Mr. Hayashl and Mr. Ooka Bougo and others had seats on a somewhat lower level. But they were not so far distant as to cause them any difficulty in distinctly hearing the words of the emperor. The conversation is reported as follows:

Marquis Ito-The desire of my imperial master is the same as that which your majesty cherishes, and I believe it is very easy to bring the people of the two countries into close relationship by carrying into effect the wishes entertained by both your majesty and my imperial master.

The Emperor-How long do you intend to stay in this country?

When it was determined to send a overnment Commission to Cuba for the purpose of selecting camp sites in the island and making provision for sanitary improvements in the principal Cuban cities, Colonel Waring was put at the head of the commission. He was appointed by President McKinley The heights by great men reached October 2d, and started for Cuba soon afterward. He spent several weeks on the island, and made a special study of conditions in Havana, with the view of suggesting plans for perfecting the sanitary arrangements of that city and deaning out the barbor.

Reefton, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896. —I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

NEW FEELING

Stimulating Riflect of Assurance of Stability

Opinions of a Hawait-Changes in Many Places

EDITOR LOUISIANA PLANTER The annexation of Hawali to the United States has had a most beneficial effect on the sugar plantations of this country, and most all of the planters WILL BE JUST A are rejoicing at their good fortune. Now that a feeling of security in the future is felt, a great increase of business with America may be looked for in the near future, and most of this business will consist of purchases of new and up-to-date machinery for sugar plantations and cane milis.

There are evidences everywhere of confidence which annexation has brought to this land, and everywhere one sees signs of progress and improvement and enterprise. This improvement is not confined to the sugar industry, but embraces many things The greatest changes will be seen in the sugar mills, as many of them are behind the times, and have been so for many years, in consequence of the unsettled condition of the Government: but annexation will change all this, and I don't consider it too much to say that now almost every mill on the islands will be put in first-class order and contain all the modern improve ments.

The majority of the Hilo, Hamakua and Kohala mills already contain nineroller plants, and by the end of the year quite a number more will be put in place. The quadruple effect is fast coming into favor, and as it is a much needed improvement where the nineroller mill is used, we may soon hope to see them in every mill on the Islands. The Deming system of clarification is also growing in favor, and quite a number will be put into use this year. Water-tube boilers are also coming in use and are spoken of highly by some of the engineers that have used them. The nine-roller mill, and better extraction has brought the fuel question into prominence again, and it's a very nice point to make both ends meet without buying extra fuel, but it fortunately can be done in most mills. But to get the best results from maceration, etc., quadruple effects are necessary with a very careful use of the steam exhaust, etc. Another very important thing will be the setting of the rollers, for I find that when a threeroller mill is imperfectly set it will need double the power and double the steam that it does when it is set right.

The setting of the turn-plate is also a very important matter; for the way in which this is done will often not only determine the quality of the grinding, but the power that is necessary to do the work as well. It is the method of setting the ti plate and rollers which has made the nine-roller mill such a success and enabled the work to be done with the trash alone as fuel. The new method of setting the bottom rollers closer together is found to be an immense improvement and will save no end of imported mills are not, I regret to say turning out very well, as one of the shafts got loose in one season's grinding, and a large blow-hole was found in one of the rollers, which was filled up with putty. This kind of work is not calculated to give confidence to GEO. OSBORNE. many orders. Kukajau, Hawaii.

SINGLE FAREWELL

McKee Rankin Company to Give Three More Plays.

"No. sir," said Manager Frank Cur ils last evening, "the McKee Rankin Company will not give a series of farewell performances. The last appearance will be on Monday evening next, alone is worth a careful study. Visi This is the final week of the engagement. We shall give Elizabeth Thanksgiving night, The Danites on Saturday night and make our adieu in Led Astray on Monday evening next. I have heard the report that we contemplated extending the engagement for a week. The steamer schedule would will be put through to the summit of allow this, but we shall close just the night that has been announced. Doing otherwise would be acting in bad faith with the public. Miss O'Neil and the company are all delighted with Honoiulu, and like the audiences, but we will leave by the steamer after our show next Monday night.

"For Miss O'Neil, Mr. Rankin, Mr. Carr, Miss Foster and all our players, as well as myself, I want to say that we appreciate the Honolulu people and love the place. We are grateful as a flatter of course for the patronage that has been extended, but we shai ever remember the genuine kindness of all the people. The audiences have been a surprise to all of us in many ways. Nearly all of the members of this company have been in every city of the United States having any sort of a playhouse and most of us have been in England and on the continent. Nowhere have we seen better dressed audiences or found the playgoers more critical. I feel that it would be worse than dangerous to bring from the coast here an inferior company.

"It will be hard for us to break with our Honolulu friends, but the Australia carries us away from the new territory back to the Mainland on Tuesday next.

"All of our three last performances will be notable ones. I believe that Miss O'Neil likes to play Elizabeth better than any other character she knows and the play is really a great one. The correct costuming will be a feature. In The Danites on Saturday evening, we shall give a western play —a California piay. It is like one of system is complete, the water being Bret Harte's stories and you shall then brought from a point forty miles from e how Mr. Rankin first made himself felt in the theatrical world. The concluding piece. Led Astray, is one that I believe will suit the Honolulu people. Miss O'Neil does some of her best acting in it and the prominent members of the supporting cast have parts well suited to them."

With the acquisition of Hawail many facts not heretofore generally known will come to light. There are many wonderful plantations on the Islands, and their fertility is so great that few can estimate the extent of the country's natural resources.

One of the most interesting of all the group of Island is Maut, which boasts of having the largest and most picturesque extinct volcano in the world, as well as the greates: of all plantations, that of the Hawailan Comnervial Company.

The volcano of Haleakala is about hirty miles from the town of Spreckelsyllie, on the Island of Maui. The town is interesting, but the plantation tors to the island do not often go up to the nimost inaccessible crater of Haleakala.

Haleaknia is likely to become a great densure resort in the future. It is highly probable that a read far more ecessible than any that now exists the mountain that contains this great crater, as the roads to it are now at iost impassable.

The great crater of Haleakala, which s called that because the word means the "palace" or "home of the sun," is almost thirty miles in circumference being a great pit that was once a liv ing volcano. There is a gap on one side that leads to the ocean, and through this the mists rush every norning in such a way as to form many fantastic cloud-forms. Sir Edwin Arnold, Mark Twain, and other well-known writers have described this as the most marvelous sight in all the world.

But before one gets to this enchant ing spot he comes to the town of Sprockelaville. One will there see a many as 6,000 acres of sugar growing at one time. To properly conduct the business of the plantation requires fifty-four miles of railroad over the farm. There are six or seven separate camps, or settlements, of workmen, all connected with the main office by telephone. There is a town for the people; there are hospitals, doctors, a harbor for the ships owned by the company, besides great steam plows and such refineries as one will see in few places in the world. Copra, or dried cocoanut, has only recently been added to the exports from the Philippines, and the shipments for 1897 show an increase of 27,800,000 pounds over 1896. The exportation of this product began only in 1892; prior to that time almost all the copra came from the Caroline islands. Today all the islands of the archipelago produce it. Exports of dyewoods, coffee, indigo, mother-of-pearl, gums, tobacco, leather and hemp rope also considerably increased.

Regarding the resurrection of the body of Christ, Dr. Bishop knows, or ought to know, that there is great difference of opinion about it, instead of able-bodied men on the sick list of the a unity. Dr. Lyman Abbott as the spokesman for perhaps the largest congregation in America of the descendants of the Puritans and Pilgrims, declared in the Outlook that the resurrection was probably that of a spiritual body. He and great numbers of other very "orthodox" people believe that "the divine truth which Christ taught should be to us the all sufficient attestation of his divine mission."

SPAIN INSISTS.

PARIS, Nov. 1d - The meeting today of the Spanish-American commission ers began at 2:15 p. m. and ended at to 3 p. m.

The Spanish commissioners presented a long document in answer to the American argument which was submitted last week. By mutual consent. the memorandum of today was handed to the Americans without being read and the meeting adjourned until Saturday next. The Spanish communication will be translated this evening and its contents will be discussed by the United States commissioners to morrow at the usual daily session.

The Spaniards in their communica tion today, reaffirmed the position which they assumed against the discussion here of Spain's Philippine cussion here of Spain's Philippine sovereignty. They insist that the words "shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines," in sticle III of the Peace Protocol, do not warrant any reference to Spain's withdrawal from the Philippines except on her own terms, and therefore the Spaniards propose arbitration on the construcpropose arbitration on the construction to be placed on the words "the control, disposition and government.

Men of the First New York and the Battation of Volunteer Engineers who were able to be in lown last evening or after dark were united in declaring that the Thanksgiving dinner provided for them by the ladies of Honoiulu was about the grandest thing of the sort they had ever even been told about The visitors said that the rest of the men of the infantry and engineers sent word to the same effect and wanted to thank the ladies and the people of Honolulu for their thoughtfulness, hospitality and generosity. "It was a pretty strong reminder of home," was the expressed opinion of more than one

Mrs. S. B. Dole and the ladies whom she had enlisted in the enterprise, including Mrs. Sewall and many others who have been prominent from the first in entertainment of soldiers succeeded admirably in providing a toothsome and enjoyable dinner for the boys at Walalae and the camp of the engineers. The tables and benches were sent out on Wednesday for the feast and the food was taken yesterday forenoon, the transportation for the latter being provided by Colone! Barber. A complete and correct list of the ladies who assisted will be published tomorrow.

Dinner was served at both camps promptly at I o'clock. The attendants were so numerous and willing that every man received personal attention. The menu was simply the family dinner extraordinary for the day and the boys did it full justice and gave cheers and thanks. The ladles were immensely pleased with the affair. Giving the dinner at such a distance from town was quite an undertaking. For the purpose a hundred or more assisted personally and there was contributed some $1200 in money and a large amount of turkeys, pies, jellies, cake,

Arabian Nights Proved to Be a Laugh Producer

O.WEIL

But in anjentirely New Role-Stock well at His Best-Carr-The Cool Audience.

The only fault to be found with the presentation of Arabian Nights by the theatrical company now here is that there is no character in the piece for Mr. McKee Rankin. He was somehow rather expected and was missed.

Arabian Nights is a capital samedy of the better or nest class. If is a potished work with witty lines and situations to amuse. The laughter is produced in an entirely natural and easy manner. There is substance to the involved story of Arabian Nights. The thing was done throughout in such a real style by the players that the audience was often nervous for the characters and particularly for Stockwell. The veteran cemedian did so well and was such a lamb in all his dilemmas that he had the sympathy of the whole house. Stockwell has the walk, the facial expression, the voice inflection, the gesture, the original air that in an interpretation such as he gave makes a result well-nigh perfect.

Again was the O'Neil a surprise. Her part was that of an actress-no not a real actress, but a slack wire performer or gymnast or something of that sort. In dress, in demeanor, the might have stepped off the stage of a vaudeville into Grundy's delicious comedy. She smoked a clgarette, too. And this is the woman who has played Magda and Leah and who is to appear as Elizabeth. All that her admirers can say, is that she is an actress of the fintaked, able, talented type that has been so rare to the American stage, at least in recent years. Miss O'Neil contributed more than her full share of the fun to Arabian Nights. In giving her lines in this comedy, she afforded all a full opportunity to judge of the wonderful voice she has. She is a wizard with that voice as she is a mystic in running the gamut of stage characters. As the breezy woman of the world last night she was a picture true to the straight test line.

Herbert Carr is well liked here in comedy. He did some of his best acting last night. In the "quarrel scene" with Stockwell. Carr was more than admirable. His simulated anger and his panie over danger of losing the lady in the case, were given fine futhches.

Miss Gertrude Foster comes in for a of Arabian Nights. Her acting upon every call was neat and life-like as to reme at the stomach was received cordially into the homes of right, nevertheless. Mrs. Horace McVictor was an improvement on the conventional mother-in-law, giving the part with an effectiveness and care too often lacking in others.

Miss Ricca Allen was scarcely at her under restraint, but gave a quite satisfactory rendition of her part.

The little Miss McVicker did the best thing she has shown the audience since the engagement opened, when she made the limp and lifeless faint into Carr's arms. In the fainting scene Carr's manly bosom was doing more than double duty for a minute.

Leslie Morosco handled well the character of a "Johany." Morosco is a good dresser on the stage.

There was a full house last evening enjoy it, for the applause, excepting at the close of the second act, was weak from an excursion to the cold storage depot. Miss O'Neil is liked very well not get a whisper of applicates when she brought into relations with him.

The reader will note, in the extract quoted from the Hawaiian Gazette, published twenty-two years ago, the reference made to the land where the Ewa and Ouhu plantations are now located-then a barren waste, worth only a few dollars per acre, also to the sandy piains between East and West Maul, which were then valued low, and sold "for a song," but are now covered with the waving cane fields of the Spreckels and other plantations; also to the Waimea and Mana plains on Kanai, then also barren, but now producing the heaviest cane stalks in the group. And still more noteworthy is the reference to the west end of Molokat, which few people believed could ever be acclaimd, or waired with an artesian supply. On each of these treeless plains the artesian water has made a most wonderful change. The lines referred to were printed before the discovery of this bountiful water supply which has transformed portions of Hawaii into a perfect paradise, or in the language of scripture, into "a land flowing with milk and houey.

It was recommended to me by one of the firemen at the works who had used it with the greatest success. I went and got a box, for I was anxious to get rid of it when it was so annoying, especially at night just as I was about to retire. The first application gave me relief and I continued the use of it for four or five days. I did not apply it so frequently, and from that time I have been completely free from that tormenting affliction. I would not without Doan's Ointment at any price and I always keep it on hand. Town Boys Lacked Practice-There Was an Interested Crowd. Impressions of Manager

There was a big crowd at the Makist thusiasm can high. The 'fane' declare that it was a poor game, but to through well and were the only players most of the onlookers it appeared to except Capt. Armstrong who could ad-be a spirited contest and the score is vance the ball for the Town Team. certainly an excellent showing. Puncity boys accepted their defeat gracefully. The amount of "rooting" for the two elevens was phenominal for teams in the future can't practice so Honolulu, ordinarily so quiet on every occasion. There was much off side play. There was much kicking Punabou has the punters par excellence. And Punahou has made a hard study of the game lately. There was not a great deal of line bucking. This fact was appreciated by the audience generaily. It is only a few people who appreciate or understand hard work at center and it cannot be seen well from the stand. The play was open enough all the time for good observation. The wedging followed by solid clashing was avoided because Punahou was not heavy enough for the Town line and the Town team had not had sufficient practice to do effective work against a trained line. One player was ruled off the field and was replaced in the Punahou team.

Score-Punnhou 6. Town 9. The observations of the two active leaders in the football of the day are given in signed letters below. They like all who witnessed the contest agree that G. R. Carter, and Hiram Bingham, Jr., are ideal officials for football.

BY W. H. BABBITT. (Manager Punahou Team.)

That we are most delighted over the result of the game goes without saying. For three years we have been to Punahou and I do not think even place of Kupihea. the Town Team grudges us our victory of today, for the game was certainly won on its merits. The superior weight of the Town Team availed them little because of lack of practice.

Never have I seen a Punahou team do such magnificent defensive work. The men broke through the second the ball was snapped and tackfed beautifully low and hard. Punahou's line was practically invincible, which was particularly gratifying considering the weight opposing it.

The lown game was a good lesson to management of the team admirable, To particularize the Punahou play would I think necessitate the mentioning of every player, for each man played his position to the best of his ability and contributed his full share to the victory.

For the Town Team it seems to me Capt. Armstrong, John Waterhouse cent. and Henry Cockett easily excelled, the work of the first two being especially moticeable:

While Panahou was continually penalized for off-side play, the work of the officials was eminently satisfactory and their fairness and knowledge to some of the exhibitions previously given.

The thanks of lovers of foot ball are due to Mr. Wood for getting together a Town Team that the usual Thanks giving game might be a reality.

in conclusion I would attribute Punahou's victory to magnificent defensive work and quick play. Respectfully.

I am thankful. It required almost them down.-Puck. superhuman energy and at times almost servility to interest enough town players to line up against Punahou this year, and I was fearful for a time that there would be no game. For six weeks, until vesterday, the Town Team had not fined up against a team for practice. For three days before the game the boys went through some of the old plays, and Wednesday evening. for the first time this year, all the players met at the Y. M. C. A. for signal practice. However, judging from last year's game, I was inclined to think the Town Team would win, but the game proves conclusively to me that last year's game was an exseption to the rule.
